Recommendation letter for Adrien Rougier

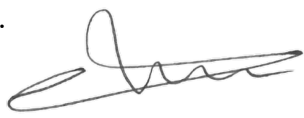

I got to know Adrien Rougier as head of the master degree “Institutions, Economy and Society” (EHESS- Université Paris Ouest Nanterre) from which he graduated with the highest honours in September 2018.

This program is one of the very few offering a high standard “institutionalist” education, that is providing the essential tools to approach any economic phenomena within its social and historical context (more information, here: <https://ies.parisnanterre.fr/>).

This curriculum is thus meant to embrace a wide range of anthropological, economic and sociological paradigms, as well as a great diversity of empirical objects (money, financial systems, state, labour and employment, law, firms...). It includes courses on classical (Durkheim, Weber, Polanyi) and contemporary economic sociology, epistemology of the social sciences, games theory and bounded rationality, historical variety of capitalisms, political philosophy (liberalism, utilitarianism, neoliberalism), and quantitative methods. As part of freely chosen seminars, Adrien specialized in Spinoza's philosophy, Bourdieu's social theory and Regulation school. He wrote a thoughtful master thesis deepening some theoretical links between these three perspective, studying the way they deal with values, beliefs representations, rules, power and conflicts.

His academic results have been clearly excellent, both in a cardinal and ordinal way – Adrien indeed ranked first in his class of 17 students. Given his obvious skills to conduct research, I confidently recommend Adrien Rougier's application for a doctoral fellowship in political science at Université Libre de Bruxelles. I have no doubt he will prove a great asset to your institution.

Sincerely,

Eve Chiapello
